

Learning at home during the Covid-19 lockdown

Due to the recent closure of schools across the UK, we've been contacted by a large number of parents looking to make sure their children stay on track with their learning.

We know that schools are doing as much as they can to provide content and, where possible, lessons via live streaming. However, this is a difficult job, so to help out we have compiled a list of fantastic resources that are easily accessible via Amazon, and are packed full of engaging content for children to keep learning whilst at home.

Please find the relevant year group below:

Also see the Statutory Framework (Early Years) and National Curriculum (Primary) guidelines so you can stay informed about the curriculum.

If you have any questions about how we may be able to help you through this period, please do not hesitate to contact us here.

- Oliver Shurville - The Resources Director
The National Curriculum