Weekly Newsletter—Friday 7th November

Messages and updates:

Hello everyone, I hope both you and your children have had a good week and enjoyed the half term break.

We're so pleased to welcome all our families back for the new term! It's been wonderful to see the children return with such enthusiasm and energy. There has been lots of great work being produced and we look forward to this continuing throughout the term.

This term promises to be a busy and exciting one, with lots of fantastic opportunities ahead. We can't wait to share these experiences with you and celebrate the achievements of our pupils along the way. Please feel free to join us next week at our Art Exhibition and our service on Remembrance Day.

Black History Art Exhibition- Monday 10th November

Please come to celebrate the incredible work the children in all classes have produced link to Black History Month. They have learnt about the inspirational work of some talented black artists and have worked hard to recreate their own art in the same style.

The Exhibition will be held in the school hall on Monday 10th November. Please collect your child at the usual time and come through the exhibition on your way home. The children are excited to share their work with you and celebrate the talents of a range of black artists.

PREPARE TO BE IMPRESSED! Don't miss it!

TTRS Day/Children in Need

Next Friday is set to be a very exciting day within school as we are hosting our annual TTRS day. On this day, we invite all children to come dressed as rock stars. While times tables are vital, we also want learning them to be fun and memorable.

We're aware that this date also coincides with Children in Need, so children may choose to dress in a Pudsey Bear theme instead, if they prefer.

Throughout the day, children will take part in engaging, interactive assemblies designed to spark excitement for maths. The whole school will come together for thrilling competitions to test our number skills. The day will be all about making maths fun and exciting, with plenty of chances to explore the world of Times Tables Rock Stars.

BE PREPARED FOR AN EXCITING START TO THE DAY AS WELL!

Remembrance Day- Tuesday 11th November

Please feel free to join us for our short Remembrance Day service on Tuesday 11th November from 10:50am. Information has been sent out about this, including more detail, earlier this week.

Have a brilliant weekend, see you on Monday!!!
