Weekly Newsletter—Friday 13th March

March Reading Challenge:

Last week we had a fantastic World Book Day. Why not keep the love of reading alive by joining in with this month's reading challenge (as decided by our Reading Ambassadors).

March's challenge is to read a "Little People, BIG DREAMS" book by someone who inspires you. There are over 100 titles in the range so there's something for everyone. Here is a small selection you might consider:

Science Week

Science Week has brought an incredible sense of excitement and curiosity to our school community this year. The week included assemblies that introduced children to the wonders of scientific thinking and exploration, sparking plenty of questions and enthusiasm right from the start. Throughout the week, year groups had the opportunity to take part in engaging workshops led by a visiting scientist, who inspired pupils with fascinating demonstrations and real-life examples of how science shapes the world around us. Classrooms have been buzzing with hands-on practical experiments, giving children the chance to test ideas, observe changes, and work collaboratively as young investigators. One of the most popular activities, without a doubt, has been the opportunity for pupils to create their own slime which was an exciting (and slightly messy!) way to explore materials and their properties. Looking ahead, the excitement continues into next week, as Year 6 prepare for their parachute-testing session on Monday. We can't wait to see their designs take to the skies and discover which creations achieve the smoothest landing!

Comic Relief:

On Comic Relief Day, children are invited to come to school wearing something red to support Red Nose Day, along with odd socks to mark World Down Syndrome Day and celebrate the inclusiveness that makes our school community so special. After school, we will be holding a cake sale to help raise funds for these important causes as well as the school. During assembly, Mr Stash will also be hosting a fun joke competition, giving pupils the chance to share their best jokes and bring plenty of smiles to the day!

Riddle of the week for children and adults:

What fruit never wants to be alone?

Last week's answer: Are you asleep?
